

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI SCHOOL

Principal's Letter March 19, 2010

Dear Family,

This is our big Auction Weekend, and we are ready to Paint the Town Red. So much effort has gone into the auction planning, and the leadership has been phenomenal. Mindy and Jim McClean have done an awesome job of organizing the teams, with the support and help of Val and Dominic Stordahl. The auction is a well-run machine with people who are totally committed to its success. They've done their work, now it's up to us to make this auction the most successful ever!

Because of the success of our fundraisers, the tuition at St. Francis of Assisi School is the second lowest of the seven Catholic schools in the vicinity, and one of the lowest of the Catholic schools in Western Washington. At the same time, we have a great school with lots of amenities, state of the art equipment, and a facility in good repair. With careful planning on the part of the administration, the staff and the School Commission, and with the support of our parents, families and friends, we plan to stay on top.

So come to the auction, either tonight, tomorrow night, or both nights, knowing that you are part of a great organization and that you are what makes it so successful. Bring your relatives and friends, enjoy the entertainment, wonderful food, get in on some great deals, and enjoy the company of the St. Francis community.

See you tonight!

Sheila
